Bonus Share Taxation Explanation

The Bonus Shares planned for distribution by the Company do not constitute Dividend Shares, but are derived from the capitalization of Additional Paid-in Capital (Share Agio), which refers to the excess payments made by Shareholders over the nominal value of Shares, after deducting equity issuance costs. The Additional Paid-in Capital (Share Agio) to be capitalized originates from the proceeds of the Company's Initial Public Offering conducted in 2022, with a total Share Agio amounting to Rp60,005,317,250 (sixty billion five million three hundred seventeen thousand two hundred fifty rupiah).

Referring to Government Regulation (PP) Number 94 of 2010, dated December 30, 2010, concerning the Calculation of Taxable Income and the Settlement of Income Tax Within the Current Year, the granting of Bonus Shares carried out without deposits, originating from the capitalization of Share Agio to Shareholders who have paid in capital or purchased Shares above the nominal price, is not considered a taxable object, as long as the total nominal value of Shares owned by the Shareholder after the distribution of Bonus Shares does not exceed the amount of capital that has been paid in.

However, if the total nominal value of Shares owned by Shareholders after the distribution of Bonus Shares exceeds the total amount of paid-up capital, the distributed Bonus Shares may be subject to tax and must be calculated and paid by each Shareholder individually.

The receipt of Bonus Shares originating from the capitalization of Additional Paid-in Capital (Share Agio) does not affect the total value of the Share investment or the total acquisition cost of the Shares, but reduces the historical value or acquisition price per Share due to the increase in the number of Shares without any deposit. The sale of such Bonus Shares will be subject to income tax at the time of the sale of the Shares through the Indonesia Stock Exchange (IDX).

Thank you for your kind attention and cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

Yulia Purnama Sari
